20,000 On Hand For Billy Graham

MELBOURNE, Australia (UPI) — An overflow crowd of 15,000 persons, 5,000 standing in the rain, launched American evangelist Billy Graham's Australian crusade Sunday night.

Six-hundred 22 men and women accepted Graham's invitation to dedicate their lives to Christ. It was the most responsive evangelical meeting ever held in Melbourne, and Graham said it was the biggest he had ever encountered anywhere.

Some 10,000 persons filled West Melbourne Stadium, while 5,000 more stood in a pouring rain to listen to his sermon over loud speakers.

The American minister went outside later and delivered another address to the dripping crowd.

"You are wonderful people to stand in this rain," he said. "I'll never forget this scene."

Dulles Knew He Had Cancer

By WILLIAM L. UMSTEAD
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles took the news that he had cancer again without batting an eye.

Associates of the 70-year-old cabinet member said he showed no emotion and made no particular comment when his physicians informed him Saturday of their finding.

It was apparent Dulles strongly suspected even before he entered the hospital that there was a recurrence of the malignancy for which he underwent intestinal surgery in 1956.

There never was any question, friends said, that Dulles should be told directly by his doctors the seriousness of his illness and they informed him without delay.

While medical authorities are divided in their opinion on whether a cancer patient should be notified of the nature of his disease, the doctors felt for three reasons that Dulles should get the word immediately.

First, Dulles had a record of cancer and it would have been difficult to mislead him on his symptoms. Second, Dulles is the type of man who likes to face the facts and wants them unvarnished. Third he is a man of great physical stamina with a fighting spirit.

After his operation, Dulles told Maj. Gen. Leonard Heaton, commander of Walter Reed Army Medical Center that he felt better than he had in two months. Associates said Dulles began to gain in pace since last December and has been restricted to a rigid bland diet. On his recent trip to Europe, he had difficulty retaining food.

Under the circumstances, friends said, Dulles probably was anxious to have his ailment diagnosed so he could get on with the treatment and return as soon as possible to his work.

Seven Perish In House Fire

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI) — Six children and their grandmother, who was babysitting with them, were killed Sunday when they were trapped in a fire that swept their tiny four-room concrete block home.

A seventh child, Queen Esther Pitman, 6, escaped the flames when her grandmother, Mrs. Mary Reeves, 58, ordered the girl to alert neighbors and call the fire department.

The mother, Mrs. Amelia Parker, 32, was visiting in South Bend when the flames broke out.

Killed besides Mrs. Reeves were her grandchildren Wilbur Parker, 10; Terry Parker, 8; Harold Pitman, 7; Laurel Pitman, 3; Jeannie Pitman, 18 months and Mary Elizabeth Pitman 6 months.

The surviving child told authorities that hot coals that dropped from a stove touched off the tragic blaze.

One Injured As Popcorn Falls, Traps Workmen

What could have been a tragic accident occurred Saturday at the Shoemaker Popcorn Company on East Maple Street.

The accident, according to Darrell Shoemaker, owner of the firm, occurred as follows:

Shelled popcorn is placed in burlap bags during the peak season and placed in stacks which sometimes reach as high as fourteen feet and weigh up to a quarter million pounds.

When the popcorn is being processed and packaged, normally the top bags are removed first to reduce the accident potential. However in this particular case, he said, an aisle was being formed in the center, as bags were being removed from one stack.

As one bag was being removed, it started an "avalanche" of the bags filled with shelled popcorn and completely buried Lloyd Jones, Noah Wheatley was struck and knocked to one side.

Wheatley suffered two broken ribs. Jones was unconscious and was found to be unhurt but shaken up.

Husband Former Hazel Girl Is Honored In State

The husband of a former Hazel woman is Kentucky's Outstanding Young Farmer of the year. Bill Roark, 32 year old Simpson County farmer, of Frankfort, Kentucky has been selected by the Kentucky Junior Chamber of Commerce as the most outstanding young farmer.

Roark is married to the former Miss Evelyn Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Jones of Hazel. The Roarks will receive an expense-paid trip to Cedar Falls, Iowa, early in April where the state finalist will be a contestant for the outstanding farmer of the nation.

To enter state competition, Roark had to win over 10 other farmers in the Simpson County area. Selection for the state title was based on Roark's progress in agriculture during his 11 years of farming, preservation of soil through good conservation practices and its contribution to community life, civic and church activity and his personal leadership ability.

Bill Roark operates a 98 acre farm on a 50-50 partnership with his father, David Roark. The diversified farming program's major enterprise is large scale cattle feeding. The huge farm is so mechanized that all operations centered around the feeding pens are electrically controlled such as feed grinding, silage feeding—all are push-button operations.

Another major enterprise is the production of Ky. 81 Fescue seed, a specialty of the Roark for years. The feeding of beef cattle was added four years ago. The farm maintains a 100 cow breeding herd and buys between 2000 and 250 feeders each year. Scales were recently installed on the farm and a periodical check of individual weights is made to aid in feed analysis. The last bunch of cattle marketed averaged an individual gain of 3.25 pounds per day.

Bill was just recently elected to his fourth term as president of the Simpson County Farm Bureau. He has been president of the county Extension Council and the Shrine Club. He is active in church work and other civic life.

The Roarks have one son.

U.S., Britain, And France Deliver Notes To Russia

By STEWART HENSLEY
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States, Britain and France today sent notes to Russia proposing a broad four-power foreign ministers conference on Berlin, Germany and European security.

The notes, delivered in Moscow early today, left the time and place of the meeting open for further negotiation. But American officials said the Western powers preferred that the conference be held in Geneva or Vienna in late April or early May.

It was proposed that the East and West German advisers sit in as consultants.

The U.S. note said that the meeting should "deal with the problem of Germany in all its aspects and implications" as raised in recent exchange of notes between the West and Russia.

Reject "Free City"

The Western powers again emphasized that "they reserve the right to uphold by all appropriate means" their access to Western Berlin.

They again rejected Russia's proposal that West Berlin be made a free, demilitarized city.

Russia's threat to turn over its occupation responsibilities in West Berlin to East Germany on May 27 was denounced in the Western notes.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Fearless
Fraley's facts and figures:

The pro basketball mogul's blame generally poor college coaching for the lack of truly great players who graduate into cash ranks but former LaSalle coach Ken Loeffler says that the pros have nobody to blame but themselves.

"The pro game takes the emphasis off of ball handling and fine passing," he asserts. "The pro game is merely run and shoot. The kids watch it on television and everybody wants to be a Bob Cousy, dribble behind his back and fire. Some coaches have come to the point where they won't even let their players watch games on leave."

And as long as there are two different games, it'll stay that way.

Giants Late With Greeting
Wise Goggin, the PGA's new senior champion says that he developed his winning game on a driving range.

"It's just like batting practice
in baseball," says the San Jose, Calif., driving range proprietor.
"But on a range you have to practice intelligently, shooting at spots instead of simply spraying your shots wildly."

Better late than never dept:
The New York Giants have just sent their Xmas cards "due to extenuating circumstances beyond our control." The Giants allowed they were "too busy" what with playoffs and the championship finale against Baltimore on Dec. 28.

Yanks List Kids
Maybe I'm showing my age,
but the old song "Keep Your Sunny Side Up" doesn't apply to the family of Alvin Jackson.
Rookie pitcher with the Pittsburgh Pirates. The lyrics were:
"If you have nine sons in a row,
baseball teams make money you know."

Well, Jackson has eight brothers-and he's the only one in the family who plays baseball.

The New York Yankees, incidentally, have a new feature on their spring training roster. It shows the number of offspring and the champs have a total of 65 children. Hank Bauer and Gil McDougald are the "big daddies" with four each, indicating why the Yanks have to hold out on masse for larger salaries.

Joe, Bliss, power punching lightweight on the Nevada boxing team, is a Paute Indian who is working his way through college by busting broncos. It's an other case of necessity, Joe having to bantamweights at long shots away from college men. Probably because they can count
when the swag is divided.

FIED FOR FILMING
NOTTINGHAM, England (UPI)—
Wilford Newton, 40, was fined $25 Friday for taking home a barrel of beer last December from the brewery where he works.

"I thought it would come in handy for Christmas," he said.

JAILED FOR THREAT
MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—A 16-year-old high school girl was sentenced to an indefinite term
at the state vocational school Friday for telephoning a fake bomb threat to her school.

TREES PURIFY AIR
United Press International
Vitruvius, the great Roman architect, under Augustus, gave detailed instructions for the ventilation of buildings to assure wholesome air, according to research by the American Association of Nurserymen.

He even had a glimpse of what green plants might do in keeping good air in cities, for he recommended street trees to help keep air fresh in crowded cities.

Trees and shrubs are nature's air purifiers, absorbing carbon dioxide and releasing oxygen. Carbon dioxide is what humans get rid of when exhaling. Oxygen is what is vital when a person inhales.
